Sophie Paget-Bailly
Methodology and quality of life in Oncology Unit
CHRU Besançon
2, place Saint Jacques
25000 Besançon
France
+333.81.21.88.97

Epidemiologist Statistician

Professional experience

2013: Research Engineer in Epidemiology & Biostatistics, CHRU in Besancon (Besancon Hospital). EA3181: Methodology and quality of life in Oncology Unit

2012-2013: Research Engineer in Epidemiology, Inserm UMR-S 1018, CESP Team 11, Villejuif (France)

2008-2012: PhD in Epidemiology: "Occupational risk factors for head and neck cancers: synthesis of epidemiological data and analysis of a case-control study, the Icare study", graduated magna cum laude Inserm UMR-S 1018, CESP Team 11, Villejuif (France)

2008: Internship in the Interregional Epidemiology Unit of Bourgogne/Franche-Comté: "quantitative risk assessment after chemical contamination of a ground water table"

Education

2008-2012: PhD in Epidemiology, "Occupational risk factors for head and neck cancers: synthesis of epidemiological data and analysis of a case-control study, the Icare study", graduated summa cum laude. French National Institute of Health and Medical Research (Inserm), Center for Research on Population's Health & Epidemiology (CESP, UMR-S 1018), team 11: Social and occupational determinants, Doctoral School 420, Villejuif (France)

2007-2008: Master's degree in Public Health & Environment (major assessment and manage-ment of environmental and occupational risks), graduated magna cum laude, Henri Poincaré University , Nancy (France)

2006: Bachelor in Cellular Biology, Biochemistry & Physiology, UFR Sciences et Techniques of Franche-Comté, Besançon (France)

2000: Linguistic year at United States International University, San Diego, California (USA)

1999: Baccalauréat in Science, (major life and earth sciences), graduated cum laude, Victor Hugo High School, Besançon (France)

Other skills

English, good skills, both written and oral
Software: Pack Office, SAS, Stata